Rosen-Dhu.
Little wild rose of my heart,
Rosen-dhu, Rosen-dhu!
Why must we part,
Rosen-dhu?
To meet but to part again!
Is it because we are fair
Of the wind and the rain,
Because we are hungry of pain,
Rosen-dhu?

Little wild rose of my heart,
Rosen-dhu, Rosen-dhu!
Where I am, thou art,
Rosen-dhu!
If summer come and go,
If the wild wind blow,
Come rain, come snow,
If the tide ebb, if the tide flow,
Rosen-dhu!

Little wild rose of my heart,
Rosen-dhu!
Time poseth his shadowy dart,
Rosen-dhu!
What matter, O Rosen mochee,
Since each is a wave on the sea—
Since Love is as lightning for thee,
And as thunder for me,
Rosen-dhu!

Smart Americans.
Mrs. John Jacob Astor, whose picture from a portrait painted of her by Prince Pierre Troubesky appeared in these columns recently, is considered the smartest American in London, as the following letter by a London correspondent to the Washington Times will show. It says:

At a young people's dinner party, given the other night, the hostess started a "new game" after dinner, which, by the way, she had taken from a weekly paper. She asked the men and girls to write down on slips of paper the name of the woman who was, in their estimation, the smartest woman in London.

The word "smart" was meant to include not only good looks, but "carriage" and good dressing. The name of Mrs. John Jacob Astor came out on top with a big majority. Mrs. George Keppel was second, and Mrs. Sam Newhouse third.

Mrs. Astor is, undoubtedly, the success of this season. She is also the envy of all women, who desire that she wears clothes better than any one in town. These clothes are usually black for evening parties, but she has never yet been seen wearing the same black frock more than once.

Her jewels are not over-elaborate, but her hair is always beautifully dressed, with soft, wavy tuffs, and her manner is as gay and attractive as possible. Her New York friends say that "Mrs. Jack" in London is a very different woman from "Mrs. Jack" in New York.

In the latter place she appears to have a reputation for coarseness. Her friend, Mrs. Langhorne Shaw, with whom she is sharing her house in Portland Place, is also very popular, and is especially liked by the Duchess of Roxburghe and Consuelo, the Duchess of Manchester.

Entertained Yesterday.
Miss Louise Allen and her bridesmaids were entertained at a beautiful luncheon, given in Miss Catlin's honor, at 1 P. M. yesterday, by Mrs. R. M. Pulliam. The bridesmaids, who are here for Miss Catlin's wedding to Mr. Anson Williamson Richards, of Brooklyn, New York, taking place in Grace Street Presbyterian Church at 9 o'clock this evening, are Miss Cora Lee Catlin, Miss Winifred Richards, of New York; Miss Edna V. Adams, of Towanda, Pa.; Miss Ruth Johnson, of Hanover county, and Miss Elizabeth Sinclair, of Newport News.

Mr. Richards gave a farewell dinner to his best man, groomsmen and other members of his party, at the Jefferson last afternoon. To-night, after the rehearsal at the church, the entire bridal party will be the guests of Mrs. R. S. Brock at the Jefferson. Miss Catlin has received lovely wedding gifts in cut-glass, silver, beautiful hand-painted china and Tiffany ware. The wedding will be beautiful in all its appointments.

White-Tucker.
An equal interest to Norfolk and Richmond society, will be the wedding at 7 o'clock this evening of Miss Jane Ella Tucker, daughter of the Rev. Beverly D. Tucker and Maria Washington Tucker, of Norfolk, Va., to the Rev. Luke Matthews White, of Hillsville, Ala., son of Mr. David Irvine White and Lucy Matthews White.

The ceremony will take place in St. Paul's Episcopal Church. The Rev. R. D. Tucker, assisted by the Rev. St. George Tucker, brother of the bride, will perform the ceremony. Right Rev. A. M. Randolph will pronounce the benediction. Miss Eleanor G. Tucker will be maid of honor. Miss Lila and Maria Tucker will be the bridesmaids. All three are the bride's sisters. They will wear gowns of white India silk-unplaited.

Mr. Gilbert C. Greenway, of New York, will be the best man and the ushers: Mr. Christie Bonet, of Columbia, S. C.; Mr. Lewis Carter Harrison, of Richmond; Mr. Charles S. Hunt, of Lexington, Ky.; Mr. William C. White, Jr., of New York; Mr. Frank H. Abbott, of Bellevue, Va.; Dr. Augustine W. Tucker, of Norfolk.

The bride will come in with her brother, the Rev. Beverly D. Tucker, Jr., who will give her away. She will be attired in white crepe de chine, trimmed with Duchess lace.

A beautiful ante-nuptial luncheon was

A WIDOW'S LUCK.
Quit the Thing That Was Slowly Killing Her.

A woman tells how coffee kept her from insuring her life:

"I suffered for many years chiefly from trouble with my heart, with severe nervous headaches and neuralgia, but although incapacitated at times for my house work, I did not realize the gravity of my condition till I was rejected for life insurance, because, the examining physician said my heart was so bad he could not pass me. This distressed me very much, as I was a widow and had a child dependent upon me. It was to protect her future that I wanted to insure my life.

"Fortunately for me I happened to read an advertisement concerning a testimonial from a man who had been affected in the same way that I was with heart trouble, and who was cured by leaving off Coffee and using Postum Food Coffee. I grasped at the hope this held out, and made the change at once.

"My health began to improve immediately. The headaches and neuralgia disappeared. I gained in flesh, and my appetite came back to me at once. Greatly of all, my heart was strengthened from the beginning, and soon all the distressing symptoms passed away. No more waking up in the night with my heart trying to fly out of my mouth! Then I again made application for life insurance, and had no trouble in passing the medical examination.

"It was seven years ago that I began to use Postum Food Coffee, and I am using it still, and shall continue to do so, as I find it a guarantee of good health."

THE COHEN COMPANY

Laces as We Sell Them.

The question is often asked why Cohen's is the lace store of Richmond. Buying laces for retail is right much of a lottery. You have to know your trade and how to buy for it. Shoppers are never disappointed here in finding what they want, and if there are bargains to be had they get them.

Valenciennes Laces have been the great drawing card this season. We have been selling many of the most wanted patterns from a fourth to a full half less than other Richmond stores.

Val. at 10c a Dozen Yards is one of the present drawing cards. The Vals, at 3c a yard are sold elsewhere as high as 50c a dozen, and Cohen's 50c a dozen kinds are seen in other stores for $1.

Trimming Laces at 3c and 5c include a full line of fancy laces that are worth double and more than our prices.

All-Over Laces are from 25c to $1 a yard, and comprise every one of the most wanted patterns in use.

No. 531. BEFORE I GO.

By EDWARD R. SILL.

Edward Rowland Sill was an American scholar, editor and poet of recognized genius. He was educated for the ministry, but abandoned this and devoted his life to teaching and literary work. One of his best known poems is "The Fool's Prayer." Mr. Sill was born at Windsor, Conn., April 29, 1841, and died at Cleveland Falls, O., February 27, 1887.

HY need I seek some burden small to bear,
Before I go?
Will not a host of nobler souls be there
Heaven's will to do?
Of stronger hands, unfeeling, unafraid?
O silly soul! what matters my small aid,
Before I go!

I tried to find, that I might show to them,
Before I go,
The path of purer lives; the light was dim,—
I do not know.
If I had found some footprints of the way;
It is too late their wandering feet to stay,
Before I go.

I would have sung the rest some song of cheer,
Before I go;
But still the chords ring false; some jar of fear,
Some jangling woe;
And at the end I cannot weave one chord
To float into their hearts my last warm word,
Before I go.

I would be satisfied if I might tell,
Before I go,
That one warm word,—how I have loved them well,
Could they but know!
And would have gained for them some gleam of good!
Have sought it long; still seek,—if but I could!
Before I go.

'Tis a child's longing on the bench at play;
"Before I go,"
He begs the beckoning mother, "Let me stay
One shell to throw!"
'Tis coming night; the great sea climbs the shore,—
Oh, let me toss one little pebble more
Before I go!

given Saturday by Mrs. William Lauder in honor of Miss Tucker. The table was profusely decorated with sweet peas and a bouquet of these fragrant blossoms was presented to each guest. Covers were laid for twelve, those present being Miss Jane Tucker, Miss Eleanor Tucker, Mrs. J. Leighton Howard, Miss Nina Johns, Mrs. J. Elliott Heath, Mrs. Lucien Starke, Miss Matheson Lauder, Miss Belle Harrison, Mrs. Henry Baker and Miss Margaret Reed.

Miss Field's Wedding.
The Washington Post of Sunday contains the following mention of Miss Florence Field's approaching marriage, for which a number of invitations have been received in Richmond:

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nelson Page, with Mrs. Page's daughter, Miss Florence Field, have closed their town house and gone to York Harbor, Me., where the marriage of Miss Field to Mr. Thomas Poulney Lindsay will take place next Saturday at St. George's Church, to be followed by a large reception and breakfast at the Page cottage. Miss Field will have only one attendant, her sister, Mrs. Preston Gibson, of Chicago, but will entertain a large house party of young people for the wedding. The Washington guests will include Miss Errol Cuthbert Brown, Miss Carolyn Postlethwaite, Miss Isabella Hagner and Miss Elsie Seymour. Mr. Lindsay, whose graduation from Harvard will precede his marriage by only two days, has been a frequent visitor to Washington in the past year. His engagement to Miss Field having been announced a year ago. He and his bride will pass the early days of their honeymoon at a camp in Maine, and later go to Canada for a stay of several weeks.

Miss Field, who is the youngest of Mrs. Page's two children by her first marriage, is the daughter of the late James Field, of Chicago, from whom she inherited a large fortune. She is a niece of Marshall Field, of Chicago, but has lived most of her life in Washington, where she made her debut four years ago. Mrs.

ton, and his bride a pupil at a fashionable finishing school in New York.

June House Parties.
June is the loveliest season in the world for house parties, which are all the vogue just now. The World-Crossing show in the home of a charming house party, given in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Crenshaw, of No. 212 West Franklin Street. Miss Crenshaw's guests are Miss Beria Smith, Miss Austin Tanner, Miss Virginia Weems, Miss Fanny Smith, Mr. Harry Frazier, Mr. Gordon Smith and Mr. Charles Shields.

Miss Ella Buck will entertain a number of friends at a house party, to be given at her country home, in Albemarle. Miss Virginia Whiteley is a member of a house party now in progress at the country home of Colonel A. S. Buford. Miss Page Royall returned from a visit to friends in New York, and will join a house party, to take place near the University of Virginia.

Senator and Mrs. Charles H. Faulkner are hosts of a party given in their cottage at Buckroe Beach, and Hon. H. D. Flood, of Appomattox, stopped over Sunday in Richmond to visit relatives here and go on there this week.

Mrs. R. H. Reynolds gave a beautiful coaching party in honor of Miss Carrie Reynolds and Mr. Addison Reynolds, recently returned to Richmond from their respective schools. The party was greatly enjoyed by the young people participating.

Personal Mention.
Mr. John Taylor Lewis, of Clarksville, Va., whose marriage to Miss Wardwell, of New York, took place last week, was his father's bachelor dinner Friday evening last, at the new Hotel Astor, in New York city.

Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Pemberton, of Richmond, and family, of three little sons, are spending the summer at the lake in the heart of the Adirondacks, where outdoor life is a constant joy.

The Portsmouth Star of Sunday says: Two charming strangers arrived in the city this week, who came especially to catch the cupful of summer in the city. They are Miss Ellen Fletcher, of Chester, S. C., and Miss Sarah M. Wilson, who became the bride of her brother, Mr. W. Fletcher, of Wednesday evening, and Miss Mildred Brent, of Richmond, who is the guest of the Misses Porter, in Washington Street, who arrived Monday to be present at the wedding of Miss Susie Porter to Mr. Edwin B. Hughes, which event took place on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Landon Cabell will spend a part of the summer at Atlantic City.

Mr. John Dunlop and Mrs. Charles Evelyn Smith will spend the month of July at Atlantic City.

Mr. and Mrs. Garrett B. Wall will spend ten days or two weeks at Ocean View.

Miss Margaret Miller has recovered sufficiently to be able to return home from a several weeks at Memorial Hospital.

Miss Fannie and Miss Margaret McCulloch leave this week to join their family, near the White Sulphur.

Mr. and Mrs. Otway Allen will visit Atlantic City, and later in the summer will go abroad.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wortham will spend some time at the Country Club, near Willoughby Spit.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Planaans and Miss Janie Wingo will be among the numbers of guests at Ocean View.

Miss Mary Hayes has returned from a visit of some length at Atlantic City.

Mrs. Noel and her mother, Mrs. Cecil, accompanied by Miss Mary Jones, will visit Ocean View.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Whitely will also be among the guests at this popular resort.

Mr. and Mrs. Meredith Montague are preparing to leave Richmond for New York, and will visit Virginia Beach. The trip is undertaken by the doctor's advice, for the improvement of Mrs. Montague's health.

Miss Lucy Lay will go to the Brandon Hotel for the summer.

Newport, by way of introducing something quite new, is to have a hunt, beginning on July 22d, when Miss Gretta B. Pomeroy and Mrs. Philip A. Clark, of New York, are to be wedded. No details have yet been made public, but it is reported that all the invited guests will appear at the wedding in their riding clothes. To render the affair still more unique, the bride, by a reversion to colonial fashion, might ride behind the groom on a pillion, to the church door.

Miss Agnes Randolph is visiting her brother, Dr. W. M. Randolph, in Charlottesville, Va.

Mrs. A. St. Clair Butler and Miss Butler are the guests of Mrs. W. Turpin Kilby at Sea View Cottage, Virginia Beach.

Mr. James Branch Cabell leaves Thursday to spend the summer at Rockbridge Alum Springs. His book of love stories will be gorgeously brought out in the early autumn, and a short story written by him, will appear in the August Harper.

Dr. Robert Harnham Fife, of Wesleyan University, will have the classes in French and German at the Charlottesville School of Methods this year. Dr. Fife's Virginia friends are pleased to note his return from Connecticut.

Mr. Eddie T. Harley will return in a few days from a visit to friends in Caroline county.

Miss Jessie R. Pendleton went to New York on Friday last to attend the National Educational Association at Asbury Park. She will spend the remainder of the summer in study at the North.

Mrs. Mary E. Vaden and Mrs. M. T. Woodfin, sisters of the late J. B. Goode, have been visiting Mrs. J. B. Goode, of this city.

Mrs. Ella Goode and little daughter, Julia, have returned with them to Chesapeake county to visit relatives and friends, and will be gone several weeks.

MADISON WARD DID WELL.
Captured Many of the Best of Primary Honors.

The Democrats of Madison Ward are fully satisfied with the share of primary legislative offices accorded them in the primary last week, for indeed, they came out ahead of any of the other wards on this score.

The officers chosen from Madison Ward are as follows: Mr. Minnie F. Folkes, Commonwealth's attorney; Charles J. Anderson, State Senator; Messrs. Ordway Puller and Harry C. Glenn, House of Delegates. The ward also chose a good ticket for the House of Delegates, Captain George N. Skipwith, another Madison Ward man, only slightly ahead of him. Mr. Puller was the fifth man on the ticket. His vote was 2,548; Messrs. Powers and Skipwith standing, respectively, as follows: 2,515 and 2,471.

It was Captain Skipwith's first venture in politics, and his friends say he will be heard from again.

Judge John H. Ingram in the Law and Equity Court yesterday rendered an important decision in the suit in the case of John A. Cooke, Jr., against the Pullman Car Company.

Equity Court yesterday rendered an important decision in the suit in the case of John A. Cooke, Jr., against the Pullman Car Company.

Mr. Cooke sued for the recovery of $10,000, claiming that he was injured from him while he was on a sleeper of the company. The court instructed the jury that the company must have an attendant in the car at all times and that the more fact that the watchman had looked the doors and was on the outside was not sufficient to hold the company liable. The verdict in favor of the plaintiff was brought in at once.

THEIR ANNUAL MEETING.
Grain and Cotton Exchange Elect Officers and Directors.

The annual meeting of the members of the Grain and Cotton Exchange for election of officers and directors was held in the rooms of the exchange yesterday morning. The president, Mr. John F. Jacoby, presided, and Messrs. J. W. C. Bragg and W. V. Smith were appointed inspectors of election. The inspectors reported the following duly elected officers for the year ending June 30th, 1907: President, John F. Jacoby; first vice-president, W. F. Richardson; second vice-president, J. H. Justice; Board of Directors—Edward Alvey, W. C. Bentley, S. T. Beveridge, John R. Cary, H. G. Carter, F. H. Deane, T. H. Elliott, W. R. Johnston, George W. King, L. L. Moore, R. M. McNair, N. R. Savage, W. T. Selden, C. W. Wingfield and R. T. Webster. The first meeting of the new board of directors will be held on Wednesday, July 6th, at which time the annual reports of the officers for the past year will be submitted and the standing committees for the year appointed. The president-elect, Mr. John F. Jacoby, is well known and, in appropriate remarks, addressed the meeting, congratulating the exchange upon its success during the past year. The meeting then adjourned.

Judge Waddill in Norfolk.
Judge Edmund Waddill, Jr., and United States Marshal Morgan Treat left yesterday for Norfolk, where a term of the District and Circuit Courts is to be held, inside of the car at all times and that the more fact that the watchman had looked the doors and was on the outside was not sufficient to hold the company liable. The verdict in favor of the plaintiff was brought in at once.

Potatoes More Active.
Potato prices are no higher, but the market is more active, and the commission merchants are making a desperate effort to clear out their stock. Chickens are active, and there is a good demand for nearby eggs. The receipts of eggs from other quarters are small, and the market is a little dull. There is no change in veal and lamb.

Both Went to Jail.
In the Hastings Court yesterday Judge Wilt heard the cases against W. M. Carter and Cleveland Children, charged with assault and battery. They were sentenced to six months in jail, each. John Chambers, upon two charges of petit larceny, was given six months on each charge.

DOES THE AVERAGE DEALER KNOW ABOUT THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE STRICTLY ARTISTIC PIANO?

Do you consider his advice as good as that of the manufacturer who understands every detail of the high art of piano building?

We are the LARGEST manufacturers of pianos in the world, and our sales in Richmond are considerably larger than the combined sales of all competitors.

This statement is true and is demonstrated by the record of The Cable Company in this city, where the youngest concern, The Cable Company, has been able, through the merit of its pianos, to outstrip the combined business of all other competitors.
